Note: In four questions two responses were given credit as being correct answers (i.e., if a student selected either of these responses it was recorded as a correct response): in questions 8, 11, and 15 two responses were deemed to be correct (this was unintentional); response (a) of question 36 had a typographical error (O6, not O26) in the original version of the test which made this response correct, in addition to response (e).
